HELLO EVERYONE!

Let us start Chapter Two which is entitled Classification Essay.

A classification essay is an essay which classifies things or people within groups or categories, for example, when you are going to talk about university, you may talk about the level of students, whether they are high achievers or lazy. ا کزی مِن / افتار

Unit Two

🚅 💮 Classification Essay

We usually tend to examine people, objects, values, or ideas by dividing them into categories. We might divide people, for example, according to age into five categories: child, teenager, young adult, middle-aged adult, and elderly. We could also divide them according to social class into low class, low middle class, middle class, upper middle class, high class. There are of course many categories to divide people by, and this applies to all other objects or values or ideas. Think of subjects in the university, for example, students, teachers. You would find that they can be divided into many categories with different classification principles. In other words, what we do is select a certain classification principle (age and social class in the people classification example) and divide the subject accordingly.

This is precisely what a classification essay is about. A subject is defined, one - only one - classification principle is stated in the introductory paragraph. The body paragraphs would then explain or illustrate the categories of classification, each in a separate paragraph. A good and effective essay would follow a logical order in defining and illustrating the categories.

The essay you are about to read is an example of a classification essay. The following questions prepare you for reading it.

Pre-reading exercises:

Before reading the text, answer the following questions.

1. Do you feel upset upon discovering that a song you like listening to is wholly or partly copied from another song? Why?

Yes, of course I feel annoyed/upset/vexed (منزعج).

2. Copyright law has recently been introduced in Syria. What do you know of this law?

- Copyright law: قانون حقوق النشر والتاليف

This law is very important because it keeps writers' works or authors from stealing. The application of this law is weak in our country, but in Europe and America, there are very strict rules and some robbers may be driven to jail. They also may pay a big fine for that crime. In Europe and America, plagiarism classified as a crime like keeling or cheating.

We are with this legal protection because it might be very helpful for authors and writers and it protects their writings and works.

4. If you were a teacher marking your students' research papers, would you heavily penalise a student who had copied the words or ideas of a writer without acknowledging them? Why?

- Penalise (v): punish (ربعاقب)
- Penalty (n): غر امهٔ/جز اء/عقاب
- Penalty kick: ضربة جزاء
- Acknowledging: to tell that this thing is not yours (اقرار/اعتراف), hut you borrow it.

Let us read the essay on page 28.

Plagiarism in the Academic Community

1- Scholars, writers, and teachers in the modern academic community have strong feelings about acknowledging the use of another person's ideas. In the English-speaking world, the term plagiarism is used to label the practice of not giving credit for the source of one's ideas. Simply stated, plagiarism is the unlawful appropriation and publication as one's own, of the ideas, or the expression of ideas (literary, artistic, musical, mechanical, etc.) of another. From an ancient Latin word meaning to kidnap or steal the child or slave of another, plagiarism is universally condemned in the modern academic world. It is equivalent to stealing the livelihood or savings of a worker, for it robs the original writer or scholar of the ideas and words by which he makes a living.

Students, as inexperienced scholars themselves, must avoid various types of plagiarism by being self-critical in their use of other scholars' ideas and by giving appropriate credit for the source of borrowed ideas and words. There are at least three classifications of plagiarism as it is revealed in students' inexactness in identifying sources properly. These categories are plagiarism by accident, by ignorance, and by intention. Inexperienced: not experienced

So, here we have three categories of plagiarism:

- Plagiarism by accident
- 2- Plagiarism by ignorance
- 3- Plagiarism by intention

اعمال / اعام/الخفأ معمال / اعام/الخفأ

Now, let's read about the three categories of plagiarism in detail:

4. Plagiarism by accident, or oversight, sometimes is the result of the writer's inability to decide or remember where the idea came from. He may have read it long ago, heard it in a lecture since forgotten, or acquired it second-hand or third-hand from discussions with colleagues. He may also have difficulty in deciding whether the idea is such common knowledge that no reference to the original source is needed. Although this type of plagiarism is the least serious, it must be guarded against. If the idea, or the words used to express it, is unique, the writer must make an effort to identify the source.

Sometimes, you may use certain expressions or words and you, didn't remember where you read or hear this idea. It's good to investigate the matter right well before you use these words or ideas in your writing without documentation in order not to fall in the trap of plagiarism.

5. Plagiarism through ignorance is simply a way of saying that inexperienced writers often do not know how or when to acknowledge their sources. The techniques for documentation—note-taking, quoting, their sources, and listing bibliography—are easily learned and can prevent footnoting, and listing bibliography—are easily learned and can prevent the writer from making unknowing mistakes or omissions in his references. Although there is no copyright in news, or in ideas, only in the expression of them, the writer cannot plead ignorance when his sources for ideas are challenged.

- Ignorance: جهل

- Aacknowledge: admit

Plagiarism + Acknowledgment

- Note-taking: to write notes (كتابة ملاحظات)

- Quoting: اقتباس

- Footnoting: إدراج حاشية

- Bibliography: مسرد الكتب/فهرس المراجع

- Omission: حذف

بيرر عمله/ يتذرع بـ :Plead -

They tell us here that there is no excuse for claiming 'ignorance' when it comes to acknowledging the sources.

6. The most serious kind of academic thievery is plagiarism by intention. The writer, limited, by his laziness and dullness, copies the thoughts and languages of others and claims them for his own. He not only steals, he tries to deceive the reader into believing the ideas are original. Such words as immoral, dishonest, offensive, and despicable are used to describe the practice of plagiarism by intention.

- Academic: it is related to literary works like drama (مسرح), poetry (شعر), prose (شعر) etc.

Thievery: robbery (سرقة)

يقال إن الإلياذة مسروقة عن أحد أعمال أبي العلاء المعري، ويقال (All For Love) التي كتبها در ايدن مسروقة عن أنطونيو وكليوباترا لشكسبير.

- Dullness: كسل/بلادة/غباء

- Deceive: يخدع/ يغش/يضلل

لا أخلاقي :Immoral -

- Dishonest: كاذب/مضلل

- Offensive: کریه/مهین/مشین

- Despicable: خسيس

So, the writer said the most serious type is the last one which is "plagiarism by intention".

carrier

ivustivorthy makeuse indebtedness

7. The opposite of plagiarism is acknowledgment. All mature and trustworthy writers make use of the ideas of others but they are careful to acknowledge their indebtedness to their sources. Students, as developing scholars, writers, teachers, and professional leaders, should recognize and assume their responsibility to document all sources from which language and thoughts are borrowed. Other members of the profession will not only respect the scholarship; they will admire the humility and honesty.

(Adapted from 'From Paragraph to Essay')

As I said, "the opposite of plagiarism is acknowledgment."

So, this is all about the three kinds of plagiarism which have been classified in a classification essay.

- Trustworthy: جدير بالثقة
- Indebtedness: العرفان بالجميل
- Assume: يتخذ/يتولى القيام ب

وفي سياقات أخرى كلمة (assume) تعنى (يفترض).

- تواضع: Humility -
- Honesty: أمانة

If you want to borrow some ideas or quotations, you should admit and you should refer to the sources that you quoted from that ideas or expressions. When you do so, others will respect you and admire your humility and honesty.

Mentioning (time and place) convince the reader that what I'm talking about in my essay is true and really happened and this is a kind of documentation (تُوثيق).

The essay usually moves towards the climax, or peak, of the action, and ends with the resolution of tension or conflict.

HELLO EVERYONE!

Last time, we talked about the narrative essay) We said that it is like telling a story and the writer or the narrator tries to convince the readers with his ideas. The narrative essay depends on having setting i.e. mentioning time and place.

The narrator also includes a dialogue to convince the reader that the events are updated i.e. they are taking place right now i.e. they are related to the present. He also includes a dialogue to draw the attention of the reader.

The essay is entitled 'Meet the Pasta Police'.

Meet the Pasta Police

Turns oul 1. After a fitful sleep, Pomarico Benedetto rose last Wednesday at 7 a.m. and put on a bright blue suit. He'd been preparing for this day since May, when he'd asked the Italian government to determine whether his Ristorante da Beni outside Brussels is a "real" Italian restaurant. Merely serving tagliatelle al pesto or tiramisu, it turns out, is no longer enough to qualify; last fall, the Ministry of Agriculture and the International Association of Italian Restaurants announced that they would begin issuing authenticity certificates to Italian restaurants (there are some 60,000 worldwide, according to the Italian Federation of Bars and Catering) that pass rigorous inspection. Benedetto petitioned for an inspection because he wants would-be customers to know he proudly serves the real thing. And so he became one of the first test cases in Italy's unusual campaign to regain control of its "brand."

The main idea in this introduction is about a man (Pomarico Benedetto) who had a restaurant outside Brussels, and he wanted to get an authenticity certificate proving that he serves real Italian food.

So, Benedetto is applying for an authenticity certificate.

Benedetto wants to attract customers. If you say to your customers that you have an authenticity certificate that states that you serve a 'real' Italian food, this will attract customers. So, what Benedetto is trying to do is to attract customers. Let's read on: Let's read on:

2. "Look, look at this terrace, I want to show you," he says, rushing out to the small garden. There's a Virgin Mary shrine carved into the wall. Tomatoes are growing beside eggplants. Inside, bunches of plastic grapes line the walls. As Benedetto whips through the restaurant, carrying a giant prosciutto and making espresso, he sings — in Italian, of course. His wife smiles at him from beside the wood-burning pizza oven. Civil lie This is an Italian restaurant.

In fact, it becomes clear that authenticity mostly means buying Made-in-Italy goods -this is an unabashed promotion of Italian exports. "It's not Italy against Spain or France," says Stefamo Crea, head of DNV's food certification unit, who has also come to da Beni today. "It's each country protecting its own." Italians, he says, are tired of the frauds perpetrated in their name spaghetti on toast, with meatballs, from a can. "We don't say the chef has to be Italian— just of the Italian school," says Crea. "If the French were certifying restaurants, the chef would need to be French, full stop."

"I don't think anyone first inspections of another Brussels restaurant that will do it," says Alfonso Manzi, owner of another Brussels restaurant that has passed inspection. If enough restaurants sign up, the results will be published by mid-2004 in a guide to certified restaurants.

6. Finally, Trombetta begins writing his report. Benedetto has passed, with the condition that he fix one "minor nonconformity." He lacks sufficient evidence to prove that his salami, pork and ham are really Italian. Once he supplies this, he will receive the certificate — the same conditional approval received by about 60% of the 40 restaurants that have so far been assessed. Almost all have since complied and won the plaque. Only five or six have backed out. None has failed outright.

8. Finally, we eat. Surprisingly, tasting is not part of the inspection. It is too subjective, Crea says. But Benedetto insists. And neither Crea nor Trombetta can find fault with his excellent pizza, spaghetti vongole and grilled swordfish. "It was no different from Italy," Crea declares. After the limoncello, Benedetto appears and presents a fax, with a flourish. After several phone calls, hands flying, he has extracted a letter from the supplier promising that all the meat is from Italy. ### HELLO EVERYONE!

Last time, we talked about the Narrative Essay and we had an example of it. It was an essay entitled 'Meet the Pasta Police'.

Go to page 49:

- 1. The thesis statement in a narrative essay should give a clue as to the main event.
  - أطروحة :Thesis -

It is a statement supported by arguments.

- Arguments: different discussions I told you before that we are concerned with setting which is (time and place).

Go to page 50:

- 7. In narratives, transitional expressions of chronological order are used to highlight the movement of actions. Examples of such transitional expressions are: first, then, next, later on, after, when, finally ... etc.
  - Transitional expressions: تعابير /عبار ات انتقالية
  - Chronological order: sequence order (ترتیب زمنی)
  - Highlight: focus on (بسلط الضوء)

الـ (transitional words) هي شيء أساسي و عليها سؤال في الامتحان.

I will give you certain transitional words. I'm going to explain them later on. You have to refer what kind of transitional expressions are.

سأتحدث عنهم قليلًا الأن:

1. Transition Markers: أدوات انتقاليل

We have a lot of transition markers, but I will give you a few of them, for example, first of all, secondly, let us now consider, in the first place, in the second place, lastly, finally.

- 2. Addition Markers: أدوات الإضافة In addition to, as well as, furthermore, moreover, not only... but also, what's more, in the same way etc.
- 3. Expressing Certainty: تعبير عن التاكيد/اليفيل When you are certain about something, you should use certain expressions like it's clear that, as we all know, it's true that, it's certain that, it's noticeable, it can be seen that

- Noticeable: can be noticed (یمکن ملاحظته)

Student:

علينا أن نعرف كل نوع مقال ما هي عبار انه؟

Instructor:

عليكم أن تعرفوا نوع الـ (transitional expressions) التي أعطيكم إياها. I will give you one of these transitional expressions and you have to match with the suitable kind of transitions.

- 4. Emphasising a Point/Situation: تاكيد على نقطة/حالة It should be stressed that, it shouldn't be forgotten etc.
- 5. Expressing Contrast and Compare: التعبير عن المقارنة والتناقض But in reality, unlike, as opposed to etc.
- 6. Expressing Cause and Effect: التعبير عن السبب والنتيجة Therefore, thus, consequently, in order to, so that etc.

7. Conclusion:

To sum up, in brief, in short, that's to say, generally speaking etc. I'll make a paper for you contain all these transitional expressions. All these expressions are found in (E - E dictionaries). They are listed at the end of any dictionary, so you can go back to an (E - E dictionary) and check them up. Also, you can find examples of them.

Now, let us move to Argumentative Essay. When I talk about argumentative essay, it means I'm going to discuss certain problem, event, activity and at the end I'd like to give you my viewpoint and I want to know if you agree with me or not.

Now, let us read about 'Argumentative Essay' on page 51:

Unit Four

Argumentative Essay

An argumentative essay is one where the writer argues for or against a certain issue. The aim is to make a point, trying to persuade the audience and change their views, behaviour, attitudes, etc. a good and effective argumentative essay is one where logical order and discussion of ideas is followed in order to leave a good impact.

مر بجادل :( Argue (v

The writer said (argue) not (discuss). What is the difference between (argue) and (discuss)?

(Argue) is more than (discuss). (Argue) means focusing on something more than when you discussing it.

- Persuade: convince (یقنع)
- مواقف :Attitudes -
- ترتیب منطقی :Logical order
- Impact: influence (تأثير)

In argumentative essay, you may with or against my viewpoint.

أي انك قد تكون مع فكرتي او ضدها.

I try all the time to convince you with my viewpoint, for example, when I talk about pollution, I try to convince you with the reasons I mention in the argumentation. Orojavjulos de sevai sal

- Pollution: تلوث

We have an example of an argumentative essay. It is entitled Video Games and Desensitisation to Violence.

The way you bring up your children at home would help 100% to create their personalities. Children imitate their parents in good things and in bad imala things, so try to be careful about your behaviour.

The essay talks about violence in video games and TV shows. Do they affect the personality of children and adults? Yes, they do. As I said (give a man a pistol, he can shoot).

- Desensitisation: reducing sensation (تقليل الإحساسية) For example, you don't care about blood shedding, tears shedding, wars, bombs, battles, accidents and so one. Everything becomes normal for you.

The essay is an argumentative essay. The writer here wants us to know

Essay II 2.4+5-6

AYD12072/T2

Let us start reading the essay on page 53:

Video Games and Desensitisation to Violence

- 1. Before trying to determine whether desensitisation to violence and video games are correlated in any way, we should mention first what is usually meant by 'Desensitization to violence'. Young people becoming desensitized to violence means that they gradually become insensitive to violent scenes and violence in general. The dominant argument in this respect is that children perceive screen violence as play or spectacle and somehow become immune to the horror of violence which makes them as a result less sensitive to the pain and suffering of others, or even aggressive towards others.
  - Determine: decide (پحدد/يقرر)
  - Desensitization: قلة الحساسية
  - Violence: نفند
  - Correlated: closely connected to each other (مرتبطة).
  - Desensitized: أقل/أضعف حساسية
  - غير حساس/متبلد الشعور :Insensitive -
  - Dominant argument: المجة السائدة/المسيطرة
  - In this respect: في هذا الصدد
  - Perceive: يفهم/يدرك
  - Spectacle: مشهد/عرض مسرحي
  - Immune: منيع/حصين/بمنأى عن
  - Immunity: مناعة
  - Horror: رعب
  - Pain: الم
  - Suffering: معاناة
  - عدواني :Aggressive

When we talk about violence, and say that children have become immune to violence, this means that they have become insensitive (or desensitized) i.e. they do not care about what happens around them anymore.

So, here the writer is giving us a definition of the word "desensitization".

Notice that "desensitization" is the opposite of the word "sensitization".

Go to the second paragraph:

Essay II 2.4+5+6

AVDI 2022/1

2. It seems that there is no controversy concerning the effects of 2. It seems on young people. Most scientists agree that there are violence effects from exposure to media violence and one such effect is desensitization to violence.

However, nobody ever distinguishes between actual violence and fictional or simulated one, as is the case with video games. Do they really believe that the teenager, who laughs, while seeing a game character being relentlessly beaten, is equally insensitive when he sees his mother, for example, being beaten by his father? Is there some kind of selective insensitivity then?

- Controversy: خُلاف اجدل
- Exposure: التعرض
- Distinguish: differentiate (يميز)
- Actual: فعلى
- Fictional: unreal (خيالي)
- Simulated: imitated (مُقَلَّد)
- Teenager: people whose age between 13 and 19 (مراهقین)
- Relentlessly: بلا هو ادة/بلا كال/باستمر ار
- Beaten: يُضرَب
- Selective: انتقائي
- Insensitivity: عدم الشعور /عدم الصاسية

The writer talks about something real in our life. When a teenager sees his mother is beaten by his father, he may be insensitive because he is the same person who sees the character of the game being relentlessly beaten and he laughs, so video games are poisonous and harmful.

- 3. Aggressiveness is not a learned thing. It is an instinctive response to real or feared dangers that threaten an individual's life and happiness. People never become aggressive because they saw similar behavior on screen. They are aggressive if and when they have a reason to be. If, for instance, they feel threatened or are actually attacked or insulted, and if they have enemies or rivals or competitors whom they hate and want to harm or to defeat. Also if they are cheated or betrayed. If aggression is not normal reaction in all these cases, then what is it?
  - Aggressiveness: العدوانية
  - Instinctive: غريزي
  - Instinctive response: استجابة غريزية

Threaten: بهدد

Feel threatened: يشعر بالتهديد

بشعر بالإهانة :Feel insulted

Enemies: اعداء

انداد/خصوم: Rivals

منافسین :Competitors

يوذي :Harm

بهزم/يغلب/ يقهر Defeat:

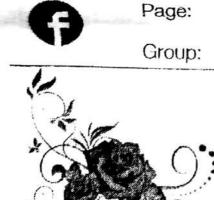

خدعوا :They are cheated

They are betrayed: تعرضوا للخيانة

So, to be aggressive is a natural reaction to a certain thing that would happen to us; i.e. it is not something learned. This is what the text is telling us.

We will continue reading the essay next Saturday.
